

Graduate Placement - Overview

The following requirements are for the teacher education student and their supervisor. The supervisor will determine the requirements for the teacher education student from these guidelines based on the skills they demonstrate as the placement progresses.

This is the fourth and final professional experience placement in a UNE Initial Teacher Education degree. During this placement in a mainstream secondary school the teacher education student's teaching performance will be evaluated as one who has reached a level of their development, ready to enter the profession as a classroom teacher. The teacher education student will be required to engage fully in the school experience as well as plan, teach and assess in their chosen subject area/s, relevant to the Australian Curriculum, Assessment and Reporting Authority (ACARA). By Weeks Three and Four of the placement, the minimum teaching load will equate to no less than 14 hours per week.

When a teacher education student experiences periods of non-teaching, this time can be negotiated for activities such as: immersion into other classes to gain a perspective of whole school teaching and learning; preparation; collection of data or resources; written reflection and self-evaluation; marking.

Week 1	Classroom immersion focussing on building professional rapport with students, small group and team teaching, assisted planning and teaching of up to 3 lessons per day by Days Four and Five.
Week 2	Increase teaching load to no less than 12 hours for the week, focussing on identifying the varied needs of learners and the implementation of differentiated learning outcomes for individuals within the class.
Week 3	Independent planning and teaching of no less than 14 hours per week where responsibility for planning/programming incorporates a range of assessment tasks to evaluate student/class outcomes.
Week 4	Independent planning and teaching of no less than 14 hours per week, taking full responsibility for the class (individually and as a collective) by guiding them to achieve planned goals and learning outcomes. This may be for day-to-day planning or for sequential, programming. Demonstrate the ability to act accountably as a classroom teacher who interacts professionally and pro-actively with colleagues, parents, students and the wider school community at all times.

Fundamental Skills

Teacher education students across all UNE initial teacher education degrees must demonstrate a set of fundamental skills to indicate they possess the required aptitude for the teaching profession. This suite of skills has been derived from the Standard Descriptors in the Australian Professional Standards for Teachers and is considered to be fundamental to teaching. A teacher education student will strive to develop and move towards demonstrating all of these attributes before the completion of their teacher training. If a candidate cannot demonstrate one or more of the Fundamental Skills whilst undertaking a professional experience placement, they may be required to postpone their progression to the next level of teacher training until they have consolidated their skills:

- Demonstrates rapport with students and engages in activities to promote student learning (1.1.1, 2.4.1, 4.1.1)
- Presents and conducts themselves professionally and adheres to all school or setting administrative, legislative and/or organisational requirements (7.1.1, 7.2.1, 7.3.1)
- Exhibits knowledge of the Australian Professional Standards for Teachers and their application to teaching (6.1.1)
- Constructively receives feedback by demonstrating resilience and responsiveness to suggested areas for improvement from the supervising teacher, school staff, UNE representative and/or other relevant participants (6.3.1)
- Attends required professional learning activities, staying back as required, and uses relevant professional learning when planning for student work or when engaging with students (6.2.1, 6.4.1)
- Shows respect for student and staff from different backgrounds and abilities, including the promotion of respectful relationships with Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islanders (1.1.1, 1.6.1, 2.4.1)

Placement Requirements

All criteria specified below is only a guide as to the minimum requirements for the Graduating Placement. For a more comprehensive view of examples of teaching practice as markers of achievement against the Australian Professional Standards for Teachers, please refer to the fourth column (Graduate) in the Standards Assessment Continuum on UNE's website.

Numbers appearing at the end of some points link Requirements for this placement to the related Standard Descriptors in the Australian Professional Standards for Teachers.

Supervising teachers and teacher education students may increase the load as teaching confidence or ability develops and in this Graduating Placement, should teach no less than the specified load each week (or equivalent).

Should you have any questions, please contact the OPL through AskUNE or phone 02 6773 3898.
